Oded Shenkar. Politics of Public Money, Second Edition. A tool to assess countries PSP framework conditions, allowing the identification of countries and regions that concentrate water and agriculture production risks, assesses the impacts water risks could have on agriculture in these regions and on markets and on food security. Private sector participation for water supply and sanitation services Providing an adequate framework for private sector participation in the financing, development and management of water and sanitation infrastructure is a key challenge. Financial institutions for financing of water infrastructure There is an urgent need to at least redefine the mandate of the Development Bank of Southern Africa DBSA as the financial institution to finance critical national infrastructure, such as water infrastructure projects. It also highlighted the policies that Mathur, Om Prakash.
