While participating in the cultured, literary groups that espoused these sorts of Romantic ideals, Schleiermacher was encouraged to write a book. Nathanael, their one child together, would die of diphtheria in when he was nine years old. Schleiermacher was born as a subject of the Prussian monarch to a family that had been rationalists but had undergone a spiritual awakening and enrolled him in a Moravian boarding school to be raised as a pietist.

Rather, it is a feeling that accompanies every receptivity and activity in a knowledge derived from either one would distort and corrupt the religious feelings. The piety which forms the basis of all ecclesiastical communions is, considered purely in itself, neither a Knowing nor a Doing, but a modification of Feeling, or of immediate self-consciousness. Nationalism represents a political creed in which the people offer their supreme allegiance to a nation-state.

He has himself read some of the skeptical literature, he says, and can assure us that the existential experience of revelation is the basis of faith and the certainty of salvation, not correct doctrines or theological formulations.
